Dedication

To our mascot, the A. H. S. Bulldog, recognizing his loyal services and untiring efforts in encouraging our teams to achieve victory after victory, we, of the Hour Glass
Staff, dedicate this, the 1937 edition of the Hour Glass.

FACULTY ON PAGE 6

1. Mr. Myer—Some think that he is the chief character in the spider and the fly, but we know that he's a swell fellow.
2. Mr. Nash—The iron hand with the velvet glove; sometimes he takes the glove off. We associate him with 312.
3. Miss Smith—Her motto: The way to a man's heart is through his stomach. She wields a wicked skillet.
4. Mrs. Huger—You've heard the saying "Sit on a cushion and sew a fine seam." Well, in Mrs. Huger's room there are no cushions.
5. Mrs. Austin—She teaches our sweet demure lassies to be "hard woikin goils."
6. Miss Liston—Our blushing school marm—Seated on her desk, with her pickle jar at her side, she teaches five-syllable words along with French and English.
7. Miss Ordway—with her sweet decorous ways is always on the lookout for Hi-Echo news.
8. Miss Richardson—The most absorbed conversationalists are blasted into silence by the dynamic personality of our librarian.
9. Miss Stewart—Miracle worker with chemicals, is our chief claim to genius.
10. Mrs. Reynolds—Our Yankee history teacher and Socialist has greatest difficulties (or enjoyment) while teaching about the Civil War and during elections.
11. Miss Malone—Sometimes called cat-killer, is our clever biological vivisectionist.
12. Mr. Neely—Our versatile teacher. Besides teaching geometry, speech, trig, he plays the violin and the piano. Also, he acts and produces plays. Still, we've never heard him sing.
13. Mrs. White—Maybe the idea of armchairs and ottomans hasn't occurred to her, but we're looking for them next year to add to our comfort in her room.
14. Miss Weaver—A brilliant scientific mind for biology. She is also a bridge player of high rank.
15. Miss Cater—Cute, blonde, and little—but size is no drawback when it comes to coaxing beautiful music from both the Glee Clubs.
16. Mr. Newman—The boys in Mr. Newman's industrial art classes respond hastily when he says, "Come here. Come 'ere, now!"
17. Coach Lott—"Chink" is a proud papa as well as a wonderful coach. His grand personality makes him an A. H. S. favorite.

FACULTY ON PAGE 7

1. Miss Williams—She sometimes needs a baton to keep in unison the rhythmic beat of chewing gum and typewriters.
2. Miss Barnes—"Teacher" teaches our girls to be expert athletes, in fact, almost female Samsons. Miss Shelton—She is called "Doc" for her art of bandaging girls wounded in sports. As a side line she teaches history.
3. Miss Ingram—This English teacher holds the dipper in the Pierian Club whose members "drink deep" from the Pierian Springs.
4. Mrs. Hudson—Next to Stuart Erwin we rank this math teacher first as a human adding machine.
5. Miss Houser—We like to look at this tiny teacher as well as listen to her lectures on Woolley.
6. Mr. Jackson—Our pride and joy band director teaches our high school windbags how to get it off their chests.
7. Miss Peterson—Believe it or not, this soft-hearted teacher is hard to beat in math.
8. Mr. Couch—Our physics teacher. He's got all the answers—in a little answer book. He is tops as an assistant football coach.
9. Mr. Self—Although "Skipper's" main interest is in Industrial Arts, he also sponsors the art of linoleum cutting. His intriguing dry wit has endeared him to all Hi-scholars.
10. Mrs. Gibson—Like Caesar, whom she so ardently advocates, she came, she saw, and she is still conquering A. H. S.
11. Mrs. Banks—As a math teacher, we figure that she adds up to an indispensable total.
12. Mrs. Brummel—A loyal Hour-Glass fan. She collects them. Modestly, she wouldn't pose for her picture, so this informal "snap" was the best we could do.
13. Miss Pinson—She heard the call of the Parnassian Hills and the result was the flourishing baby Parnassian Club.
14. Mrs. Moorefield—This meek but persistent teacher was not with us the first semester, but we feel that A. H. S. has benefited by her valuable addition.
15. Mrs. Warnock—She mitigates your mathematical problems and also teaches the fundamental principles of science.
16. Mrs. Horn—Her Virginia accent lends atmosphere to her intensely interesting and unbiased discussions of the Civil War.

SENIOR CLASSES

FRANCES ALDRICH

A fun-loving gal from way back—sunny as they make 'em.

MARY ALLEN

Brilliant in everything. An all-around girl.

Parker

PARKER ANDERSON

A dignified senior and a "stoogie"—what does that make him?

MINNIE ALLISON

Sings to you with her voice and her eyes.

HAROLD BAKER

Shy, retiring, and a magician when it comes to radios.

RUDOLPH BAILEY

A true Southern gentleman —pardon his Southern accent.

THE HOUR GLASS OF

S E N I O R C L A S S

MARVIN BLACK

"Red" Black—He should have that school spirit. Star reporter and a dependable worker.

GLADYS BLANCHARD

A sense of humor we'd all like to have. Has she told you about her dog, Napoleon?

ADELINE BOOTH

Have you heard her latest? If not you'll find it in the exchange column of the Hi-Echo. "Quiet humor" describes her best.

JAMES BOWLES

Hope you didn't miss him in our play, "Growing Pains."

RUBY Box

Shorthand speed queen—She's going some if she can write as fast as she talks.

BILLY BRIDGES

The perfect attitude—dependable and earnest.

SARA BROTHERS

"Thinker-upper" of all these cracks but we like her just the same.

MILDRED BROWN

A reading machine, always wound up and always going.

SARA BROWN

Of all the girls that are so smart, there's none like pretty Sally.

ANNETTE BUCK

Revenge is sweet! Which means she's responsible for those faculty gags.

MORGAN BUNCH

Bright blue eyes and a contagious laugh are his.

EUGENIA CADE BUTLER

Her dancing ability is only surpassed by her pleasing personality.

A N N I S T O N H I G H S C H O O L

S E N I O R C L A S S

NADINE CAMPBELL

A real worker with a sweet, appealing manner.

LILLIAN FRANCES CAUDLE

Our book critic—and not "Gone With the Wind" either.

RUTH CHRISTIAN

"A witty woman is a treasure."

MARTHA H. CLEVELAND

"Ye editor" of our own Hi-Echo is ready to go places and do things.

JEWELL COCHRAN

No bigger than a minute; a swell sense of humor.

ANN COLE

Our most sophisticated senior, bet she didn't feel very sophisticated her first riding lesson.

WALKER COLLINS

Plays the trumpet in the band. That must be the noise we hear.

JAMES COOPER

Swish—Another goal. A brainy basketball player with eyes in the back of his head.

BOBBIE DAVIS

Any girl would envy her dimples and her winning ways.

DOROTHY DAVIS

She's got everything—style, smile, class and clothes.

RUTH DEASON

There's many a brain under that strawberry top!

MARY JEWELL DURDEN

The teachers will miss being able to look down and see one person studying second period.

T H E H O U R G L A S S O F

S E N I O R C L A S S

LAKE EDWARDS

He is the very pineapple of politeness.

NORMA JO FRAZIER

She's got that true Southern spirit. Her friendliness can't be beat.

MARGARET CECIL GAINES

One of our school beauties—but the phrase "beautiful but dumb" wasn't made for her.

GOLDEN GRAY

Another successful petticoat president. Have you ever seen her blush?

VESTA HARMON

"Better late than never," she says.

DUNLAP HENRY

"Another Robert Taylor" votes the student body.

GRACE ELLENBURG

"Still waters run deep."

*done,
Grace*

MILDRED FRIES

Quiet as a mouse, with a most becoming blush and lots of sense

LOUISE GEIER

The expression "peaches and cream" was just made for Louise's complexion.

LAWRENCE GRAY

One of our drum majors. A popular soda-jerker is a swell advertisement for any drug store.

ANNYCE HENDRICKS

"Well-timed silence hath more eloquence than speech."

PATRICIA HOPKINS

"Scrubunctious." Has she ever tried this one on you?

A N N I S T O N H I G H S C H O O L

S E N I O R C L A S S

SARA JENKINS

Noted for her neatness—fastidious in every respect.

*Laurie
Sarah*

CHARLOTTE JOHNSON

A lesson in charm and a musical genius.

FRANKLIN JOHNSON

Actor, stage-hand, scenery builder—he's the apple of Mr. Neely's eye.

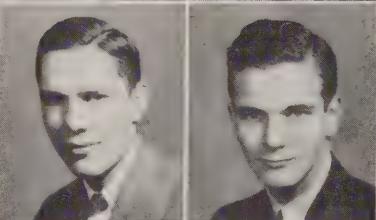

MACFADDEN JONES

Alias "Einstein", our physics genius. We think he invented the theory of relativity.

HOWARD KEY

Bulletin boards, shelves, zinc cuts—he wins the approval of all the teachers with his mechanical marvels.

EVELYN KIRCUS

Withdrawn.

DOROTHY JOBSON

Does she have rhythm! A bundle of sweetness with dancing feet.

FRANCES JOHNSON

The Spanish type, well-liked by all and shines in gym.

LOIS JONES

Completely unique, our only xylophonist. Not hard to look at either.

FLORA LEE KENNEDY

Just plain cute and a winning smile.

JOE KING

Class president, basketball star, sunny disposition, in short, all the honors in one suit.

ROY KNIGHT

A handsome "knight"—noble in all his deeds. See our Sports Section if you doubt it.

T H E H O U R G L A S S O F

S E N I O R C L A S S

MARY FRANCES LANDERS

Actress and reader—Boy!
them there eyes.

VIRGINIA LEDBETTER

Quiet, serene, unruffled, and a poet of promise.

LLOYD LEMING

A hard working messenger boy and an out-door man.

Lil Leyden
ELIZABETH LEYDEN

A true artist—violinist and linoleum cutter. She's done a lot for school and class.

PEARL LINDSEY

She has a gentle beauty and a sweet manner all her own.

HAROLD LLOYD

Well-groomed and brilliant an individual thinker.

OTIS MATTISON

That well-dressed man known to many as the "Greek god."

MARY MATTHEWS

Rare combination of charm, talent, and beauty.

LINDSAY McCARTY

Secretary of Hi-Y "A"
Club member, and an Usher.
How's that for versatility?

FRANCES McMENN

Our best all-round student.
Hats off to Frances!

VONNIE RUTH MOORE

It's soothing just to contemplate her poise. And is she a good volley ball captain!

JAMES MOTES

"You've Got To Be A Football Hero"—Jimmy, take a bow!

A N N I S T O N H I G H S C H O O L

S E N I O R C L A S S

JOE NUNNELLY

"Sleepy Joe"—His drawl is the envy of these would-be Southern girls.

MARY OLIVER

Her smile will warm anyone's heart.

ROBERT ORRISON

Known to all as "Curly," Where did he get that name?

EMILY OWEN

Her beauty and winning nature make her attractive. Her talent and perseverance will make her successful.

MARGARET OWENS

Tops at lots of things including poetry and theme writing.

WESLEY PALMES

That harmony you heard third period was Wesley and his partners in crime.

ALLENE PENNINGTON

An athlete with pretty hair —wields a mean paint brush.

JACK PERSELL

All merchants groan when Jack comes in. He's a Hi-Echo "ad-getter."

HUBERT PHILLIPS

A paper carrier that gets around.

FRANCES PIPPIN

A pip in everything. (A pun, my word.)

CARTER POLAND

"Soapy" is not only our most brilliant boy but also a real "basket baller."

CLINTON POPE

A grand alternate football captain, he took up where Jimmy left off.

T H E H O U R G L A S S O F

S E N I O R C L A S S

FRANK POPE

A package of greased lightning on the gridiron.

WALTER RANKIN

"My only books
Were women's looks."

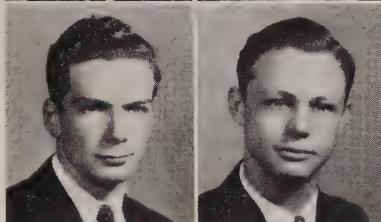

JIMMY REYNOLDS

We all got a thrill on Friday nights watching Jimmy punish that pigskin.

JOE RUFFIN

Our Hour Glass camera man. Dubbed public enemy No. 1 by the teachers for that reason.

BRENTON SMITH

Our chemistry student. Just ask him what H₂S is.

SARA SMITH

A jolly girl with a vivid personality. Her wavy locks are the envy of all.

VIRGINIA RAINWATER

Has the distinction of being one of the guardians of the "who's-at-where" book.

JOE RASPBERRY

Tall, blonde, and a handsome athlete.

CYNTHIA ROBINSON

Originality is the keynote of her charm. It shows in her merry brown eyes.

ALEX SAWYER

Three cheers for the "personality man". He's good behind a candid camera, too.

CATHERINE SMITH

Withdrawn.

RUTH SNOW

The only person we know who can set her tongue going and then go off and leave it.

A N N I S T O N H I G H S C H O O L

S E N I O R C L A S S

DELA SPARKS

She's tried to bury her light under a bushel, but we've known it was there just the same.

MARK SPEIDEL

A Yankee in our midst, but he's made a place in Southern hearts.

CARLETON STERNE

Our child prodigy. In her class it's impossible to make an A.

PAUL STONEY

A good-looking bass. Who wouldn't like to have Paul serenade her?

GUY TAYLOR

Another "Rubinoff". He's carried off lots of honors with his violin.

CAROLYN THAGARD

Expresses her artistic nature equally well in music, writing, and poster work.

HELEN SPARKS

President of the Hobby Club, she combines brains and a talent for domesticity.

REBECCA STANLEY

Bubbling over with fun—she adds to any gathering.

MARY STERNE

A versatile girl—actor and writer—with lots of personality. Believe it or not, she was Dorothy Kix!

FRANCES STOVALL

A blonde you love to look at. You could learn a lot from her, too.

INEZ TERRY

One red-head with a sweet disposition.

WILLIAM THORNTON

Merchant's pet annoyance but he brought in ads for our Hi-Echo.

Paul S.
T H E H O U R G L A S S O F

S E N I O R C L A S S

JACK TURNER

Always talking and usually funny.

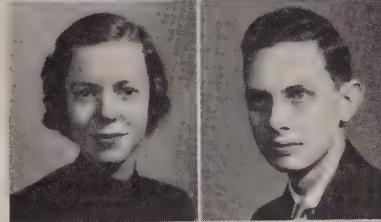

JEANNE WALKER

Our Jenny Lind with sparkling brown eyes.

MARY NELL WATSON

Always in the middle of a jolly crowd.

KENNETH WELLS

The kind of boy you know will be successful at anything he tries.

ROBERT WINKLE

Bob can dish out ice cream and we don't know what all else.

MARJORIE WOODRUFF

A songstress, actress, and home economist. How does she do it?

ROBERT WAKEFIELD

A great football player—his line has a kick in it!

ROBERT WARNOCK

Snap! — there goes Bob again. A picture taking wizard and a class leader.

HUGH WEBB

Ask Hugh who he thinks starts wars. But make yourself comfortable while he tells you.

ELFORD WHITE

Let's hope he never rides in the wrong end of that big white ambulance!

MARY WISE

Truly "wise." Behind that quiet voice is an amazing amount of knowledge.

CECIL YOUNG

In case you haven't recognized it, the face behind the trombone in the German Band is Cy's.

The three-ring circus of the Junior Class started off with some loud and fancy band music. We certainly are represented in the A. H. S. Band. Raymond Clarke was ringmaster in the big ring with George Leyden and Tom Cleveland in the other two. The barking for the Big Show was done by Lalee Willett and Viviette Stockman, cheer leaders for the football games—and did we have the crowds pouring in. We had some swell acrobats in the athletic line, (don't take that as a slam, boys). And, of course, we had our share of beautiful girls and clowning boys. This circus is one that is run on a paying basis, on account of the intelligent members of the troupe. Of course, we had our trials with the big animals—troubles, to you—but we've still gone—"On with the show!" So goodby and don't get et up by a tiger.

Cookie

P. S. You'd better buy your ticket now to see the great show we're putting on next year—and get a reserved seat!

We Sophomores have drifted through this year with oodles of fun in our wake. In the beginning, last fall, schedules were hastily compared, changed and rechanged. Then officers were elected and we felt the excitement of autumn descending upon us.

Homecoming night, Ann Graham, sponsor, looked plenty cute strolling across the field with Clyde McLallen. Elegant parties after the football games kept us in high spirits until exams brought us to earth. Several of the sophomore boys have acquired ushers' badges during the past year.

The "sunniest" of us is none other than the tapping marvel, George Thornton. To top the year off, Vivian Bishop won the A. H. S. Beauty Contest. Were we thrilled!

As rats in Senior High School, we have found that we aren't tops yet—far from it—we seem to be just the opposite. We have plenty to learn and one consolation is that we have as long in which to learn it as we wish to spend at A. H. S.

Some of our first discoveries were about Mr. Myers' rubber heels and Mr. Nash's quiet but forceful commands—and we step lively when he says step. Also we have learned that Miss Richardson will not let us wander in and out of library if the idea strikes us as pleasant and that rats aren't allowed to leave homeroom any time they so desire.

We have finally caught on to the fact that yellow slips are orders from headquarters and are far from being funny, and that skipping classes, especially gym, is not such a joy as we have been told—at least not for inexperienced freshmen. However, after about two weeks of getting adjusted and gathering this information, we settled down to work instead of play.

Our first year in Senior High School has been fun and an adventure for us and a source of amusement for our teachers and the rest of the faculty. But let us hope, as time goes on, we, the Class of 1940, will finally be wise and dignified seniors ourselves, worshipped and respected by other rats.

May we present our heroes of the gridiron, diamond, cage, and track? They constitute one of the oldest, no reflection on the individual's age, and most active clubs in school. All of them, the heroes, have made their A's in some field of athletics. They are famous not only for their prowess in sports, but for their superb entertainments. This year they have had a number of dances, a steak fry, and that unsurpassable banquet in May. At Christmas every year you see these huskies bringing dolls and rocking horses to school. Be not afraid! It isn't feeble-mindedness, but their yearly good turn to give toys to the underprivileged children of Anniston.

The Band, under the direction of Mr. Jackson, has put music in the air this year. Throughout the football season it sweated through daily marching practice. Of course, the members felt repaid when they heard the compliments dished out by spectators of the football games. The Gadsden game proved the most fun of all the games because of the ride and supper donation.

To try to get more into the Christmas spirit, the Band brought food, candy, and fruit to school just before the Christmas vacation. These things were given to the Salvation Army, which distributed the food among the needy.

The concert came off in grand style. Attendance estimates range from nine to eleven hundred. That crowd was a big help in defraying the heavy cost of the trip to Birmingham. About sixty-five Band members made Birmingham a sadder and wiser city. After the Band has stayed two days and three nights in one place, that place is somewhat rundown. Several members participated in the massed band of two hundred and fifty pieces.

As a director, Mr. Jackson is tops. His bright remarks, his good-natured razzing are a relief to the poor Band members after the call-downs and scowls of the other teachers.

Taken together, this year's Band eclipses any other Band year so far.

These, our business men and women, have long had a model organization. This club was organized way back in the dark ages when the Anniston High School was housed in the "Old Barn". It has grown in wisdom and strength and has found favor in the eyes of the faculty and student body. This year they have had talks by business men in addition to business plays on their bi-weekly programs.

Some four years ago a small group of musically inclined students formed a music club. Selecting Mrs. Banks as its sponsor, Robin Russell as its first president, and Etude Club as its name, the club started off on high "C" by becoming a member of the Alabama Federation of Music Clubs.

Last year these "Etudians" gave a beautiful concert at the Alabama Power Company Auditorium. Each member had some part of the program, consisting of piano numbers, violin numbers, ballet dancing, and singing. They really are a talented group of musicians. Robin Russell, Guy Taylor, and Sara Cecil Evans have each been given high honors in the state music contests.

It's an old Hi-Y custom to do one big thing every year as well as the little things. The big thing was the work done in influencing other schools to send delegates to the Youth Conference in Tuscaloosa. Several members attended from here and Bob Warnock presided as retiring president of the Conference. The little things included the Father-Son Banquet, as new as the ice cream supper is old. Charitably speaking, we gave baskets at Christmas and Thanksgiving to the needy. Clean Speech—Clean Sports—Clean School—A Clean Life.

They have grown so that one hardly recognizes the small group which originally met when the Old Barn was first relegated to the shelf of "back numbers". Haven't you heard? The Parnassian Literary Club all of a sudden came to light last fall. It seems that some of Miss Pinson's English pupils got intellectual; hence, a new literary club for "the furtherance of knowledge". (A committee even labored over a constitution.)

With a membership of thirty-five boys and girls, a social event was immediately scheduled at Louise McNaron's. More fun! That set the club off with a bang—every one was interested!

Then someone the president had appointed began planning elegant programs. One was "Alabama Authors". But the most interesting event was Mrs. E. P. Cooper's visit, when she read one of her short stories. Since when did a new, new club rate a visit from talented Mrs. Cooper?

The P. C. L., with Miss Pinson as sponsor, with shining pins (to say nothing of red roses), and "good intentions", is going places!

The Pierian Literary Club was organized many and many a year ago, 1930 to be exact, in a room by the side of the hall with Miss Meharg as sponsor. Instead of weakening with age, it has been growing in strength. Miss Ingram became its sponsor this year with very gratifying results. They have been studying the modern world of Literature, Music, and Art with various members presenting the programs.

All work and no play makes Jill, as well as Jack, a dull person, so the Pierians have had a scavenger hunt and a dance. They are planning to have a house party in addition to their yearly dinner and dance for the senior members.

"Down in her old home room, where she now does teach", Miss Houser gathered about her knees a group of talented writers, for so they proved themselves, and formally organized the Scribblers' Club in 1934. When a Scribbler has something publisher there is great rejoicing in this band of seekers-after perfection in the literary field. There have been rather few of these rejoicings, but they suffice to furnish the members with plenty of initiative for more strenuous efforts. Most of the success and spreading popularity of this Club belongs to Miss Houser, who has devoted so much time and energy to its work.

Any girl who didn't make her letter and get in the Sports Club this year had better start getting some self-pity—'cause we had a de-lovely time.

The main dish of the season was vegetable soup, a volley ball Play Day for all the nearby schools, which we sponsored. But don't get the idea that we're vegetating, 'cause we've got some real workers.

Another thing that was lots of fun was our Christmas banquet, and were we pleased with the presents we got and our letters to Santa!

The Bulldog Brings Home the Bacon...

LEEDS GAME
The Canines clicked for a 19-0 victory in this game. Frank Pope and Jimmy Motes took the backfield honors.

LINEVILLE GAME
Although losing 18-8, the Bulldogs officially defeated Lineville as one of their players, Barker, was ineligible. Anniston won 1-0.

OXFORD
This annual game was not without its usual spice. Both the Yellowjackets and the Bulldogs were scoreless until the fourth quarter. Two passes, thrown by Tommy O'Brien to Alex Sawyer and Frank Pope, were good for a touchdown. A pass to Frank Pope over the goal line made the extra point which decided the winner.

Oxford's score came early in the last quarter when Emerson intercepted a pass. Turner then ran wide around end for the counter. The try for extra point failed.

ALEXANDRIA
After getting off to a slow start in the first half, the Bulldogs scored three touchdowns in the last half. The Bulldogs' three touchdowns were made by Shonesy, O'Brien, and Pope. Early in the game a safety gave Anniston two points.

TUSCALOOSA
The Anniston High School Bulldogs lost to the Tuscaloosa High School Bears 27-6. Anniston was outplayed throughout the game. The Bulldogs' lone touchdown came as a result of a Tuscaloosa fumble, recovered by Frank Pope on the Tuscaloosa's 31 yard line. Winning only by a moral victory, the Bulldogs were thrown back by the Bears to the tune of 27-6.

JONES VALLEY

The inspired Anniston High Bulldogs took Jones Valley for a 26-6 ride. The best run of the game was made by Frank Pope, from the Jones Valley 39 yard line for a touchdown, though it was called back because of an off-sides penalty. Anniston played jam-up football and deserved the score.

NORTHPORT

The Anniston High Bulldogs took the Northport encounter 26-0. The Bulldogs scored in every quarter except the second. But they added an extra counter in the last quarter for that oversight. The line play in this game was the best this year, and the backfield was right with them.

ASHLAND

Anniston made four touchdowns and added the extra point after each one to beat the Ashland team 28-0 in the last game played on Johnston Field this year. Anniston was slightly off par this game.

GADSDEN

The Bulldogs ended a successful season, clicking with an air attack that proved far superior to the Tigers. This 39-0 victory proved the team had lived up to expectations.

BASKETBALL

Coach Lott's quintet had one of the best teams in the school's history this year—winning 9 and losing 6 during the regular playing season. In the Sixth District Tournament they were not seeded but defeated the seeded No. 1 Sardis Team, also No. 3 seeded Team, Jacksonville—meeting Oxford in the finals after a tough bracket throughout the tournament. They lost to Oxford 15—12.

Anniston placed two men on the All District Team—Cooper, a lanky center and O'Brien, star guard. The Bulldogs entered the State Tournament at Tuscaloosa but lost the first game to Hacklersburg, a strong team, 38—14.

The Physical Education Department offers a broad program of activities in order to provide for the needs and interests of the girls. Physical Education work is required of all students through the tenth grade, and one-fourth credit a semester is given for satisfactory work. The course is elective for other students.

According to the state program, three activity periods and one health period are provided for each week. The health work consists of projects in which definite work is planned for the correction of defects and improvements in the health of the girls.

Team games, stunts, folk dances, tap dances, mass games, and relays, individual games and posture work are included in the physical education class period. Tournaments in ring tennis, table tennis, shuffleboard, croquet, horse shoes, and paddle tennis are organized in the gym classes to determine the class champions. These champions compete after school for the school championship. An intramural program of volley ball, basket ball, and baseball is planned, and winners of each sport are determined by round robin tournaments.

Points which are earned in these activities enable a girl to make her letter. A girl who earns 800 points is awarded a school letter and is eligible to attend the district Play Day at Jacksonville. A girl who earns 1200 points is awarded a state letter and is eligible to attend the State Play Day at Montevallo. Thirty-two girls enjoyed the State Play Day this spring.

The Junior Sports Club and the Senior Sports Club are composed of girls who have earned letters. The Leaders' Club, First Aid Club, and Tap Club are also sponsored by the Physical Education Department.

A Volley Ball Sports Day, sponsored by the Leaders' Club and the Sports Club is the big event of the fall. Five nearby schools are invited to bring two teams each. The girls are divided into teams after they arrive and play with each other during the morning. This year the plantation idea was used throughout the Play Day, the teams were designated by vegetable cut-outs and the cafeteria tables were decorated with negro mammies of crepe paper, piles of red apples and cotton bolls tied with red and black ribbon as place cards. A program of negro clogs and square dancing was enjoyed after lunch.

Miss Louise Shelton is the instructor for the seventh and eighth grade girls and Miss Harriet Barnes instructs the ninth and tenth grade girls.
